ACCORDING to History of Hingham, Mass. Vol. 3, p. 102 "He (John<sup>2</sup> Otis) was born in England, 1620, removed to Scituate, Mass. 1661, from there to Barnstable, 1678, returning however soon after to Scituate, where he died 16 January 1683, aged 63. He married in Hingham, Mass. Mary Jacobs, daughter of Nicholas Jacobs and his wife Mary". In his will he mentions houses and land in Scituate, Hingham, and Barnstable. To son Joseph house and land in Scituate, (and it appears that his son John<sup>3</sup> Otis, received the house and Otis Farm, "opposite Hinckley's Lane, near the Marshes West Barnstable").

John<sup>3</sup> Otis, (son of John<sup>2</sup> and Mary Jacobs) was born in Hingham, Mass., 1657, he married July 18, 1683, Mercy Bacon, of Barnstable. They removed to Barnstable, where he died 23 Sept. 1727 aged 70. Their son Colonel James<sup>4</sup> Otis, born in Barnstable, 14 January 1702, was a Colonel and a Judge. He married Mary Allyne. They had ten children.

James<sup>5</sup> Otis, The Patriot, oldest son of Colonel James<sup>4</sup> Otis, and Mary Allyne, was born 5 Feb. 1724-5, in the family mansion, at Barnstable, opposite Hinckley's Lane near the Marshes, West Parish. He died May 23, 1783. "(See Otis Family, by Horatio N. Otis, N. E. Gen. Register, (1848) Vol. 2 p. p. 283-289.) See also Tudor's life of James<sup>5</sup> Otis, (1823) p.p. 6-495. James<sup>5</sup> Otis born in the family mansion at Great Marshes, in what is now called West Barnstable". "The house still standing (1823) but with the loss of its wings".

Deane's History of Scituate, p. 318, states that "John<sup>2</sup> Otis, in 1678, went from Scituate to Barnstable, and took up the Otis Farm", "near Hinckley's Lane". "He left in Barnstable, his eldest son John<sup>3</sup> Otis, and returned and deceased in Scituate, in 1683". "Son John<sup>3</sup> Otis (born 1657), was the ancestor of the distinguished Lawyers and Patriots by the name of Otis, in Barnstable and Boston, to whose fame no commendation of ours can add".

John Gorham Palfrey, the historian, in his Oration at the two hundredth anniversary of Barnstable, in 1839 (p. 27) said, "On the fifth of February, 1725, in a farmhouse at Great Marshes, which within a few years has gone to decay and been removed, but which could money and art have preserved it, the gratitude of an emancipated people should have made to stand forever, was born the pioneer of the American Revolution, James<sup>5</sup> Otis."

Amos<sup>7</sup> Otis, in "Barnstable Families" Vol. 1 p. 132 says the Otis Farm was east of the Bursley Farm. On page 133 he states that John Bursley 2nd, inherited the mansion house of John Bursley 1st "taken down in 1827". On page 135 "John Bursley 2nd owned at his death in 1726, the same real estate that his father did in 1660. (This being true it could not have been the Otis Farm in 1724 when the Patriot James<sup>5</sup> Otis, was born.) See "Barnstable Families" Vol. 1 pp. 156-157 "John Chipman's land bounded easterly partly by land of John<sup>3</sup> Otis and partly by land of William Crocker". "The elder Chipman, owned lands in West Barnstable before 1672". In volume two (2) p. 31 "Samuel Hinckley (Father of Governor Thomas Hinckley), was one of the first to remove to W. Barnstable, where he owned one of the best farms in the town", ("now owned by Levi L. Goodspeed, Esq.") ("Barnstable Families" was written between 1850 and 1860.) (Vol. 2 p. 31) "Samuel Hinckley's son-in-law John Smith (the John Smith who deeded his farm to John<sup>2</sup> Otis, of Scituate "Oct. 21, 1667") owned the adjoining lands since known as the Otis Farm." The "bridge" mentioned in the deed (of 1667) was very near what is now the railroad crossing over the State Highway in W. Barnstable, and near "Hinckley's Lane".

Amos<sup>7</sup> Otis, the historian, was the great grandson of Solomon<sup>4</sup> Otis, who was an uncle of the Patriot James<sup>5</sup> Otis. Solomon<sup>4</sup> Otis was Registrar of Deeds for Barnstable. Amos<sup>7</sup> Otis was born in Barnstable, 17 Aug. 1801 (See N. E. Gen. Register Vol. 51 p. 329). (1897). His "Barnstable Families" is the best history of the town ever written.

Tudor says the Otis Mansion was still standing in 1823, Amos<sup>7</sup> Otis, was twenty-two years of age at that time.

The map included with these notes shows where the Cape Cod railroad crosses the State Highway, also shows Bridge Creek, very near that crossing, and "Hinckley's Lane."
